JOHN J. RICHEY BARN, CONTENTS ALL DESTROYED

Four Horses, Mule, 900 Bushels Oats, 100 Bushels Wheat Go Up in Flames.

FIRE ORIGIN IS MYSTERY

Discovery Made by Daughter Returning From Public Gathering; Scores of Motorists Aid in Saving Adjoining Buildings; Loss Partly Covered.

Fire of unknown origin Friday night destroyed the barn of John J Richey near Pennsville all its contents and the contents of a silo close by, causing a loss estimated at $10,000 or more.

Four horses a mule 900 bushels of oats, 100 bushels of wheat, 3 tons of hay, 100 tons of ensilage which had just this week been placed in the silo and all the farm machinery in the barn were destroyed

Reports that the cattle were burned proved untrue The herd was in a pasture field

Passing motorists saw the scores and neighbors carried water and saved other buildings Several hundred persons were attracted to the scene and many of them remained until morning

The walls of the barn an old time stone structure, collapsed today

The fire was visible for miles the farm being located on the pinnacle of Pennsville hill along the Mount Pleasant road

Members of the family were asleep with the exception of a step daughter Sarah Thorpe who had been to Paradise Church to attend a gathering under the auspices of the Fayette County Farm Bureau She reached home about 11 30 and five minutes later discovered the fire At that time the flames were beginning to burst through the roof

Miss Cora Richey another daughter, rang the old time farm bell and Mr. and Mrs Charles A Richey the former a son, who live along the brick road hurried to the scene, thinking at the sound of the bell that Mr Richey had been taken ill By this time motorists and neighbors were beginning to gather

It was impossible to get out the horses and mules though desperate efforts were made to do so, and it was impossible to save the machinery, so great headway had the fire gained All then turned their attention to other buildings

Mr Richey the owner is 84 years old He was not feeling well today, as a result of the excitement and the shock of the loss He was among those who stood by and watched the barn go up in flames

The roof and doors of the silo were burned off and the contents of the silo damaged beyond possibility of being used it was said

The loss is said to have been about one-third covered by insurance

The fire seemed to have started in the lower part of the barn The theory is that it might have been caused by some one bent on stealing

Charles A Richey has been operating the farm

Dictatorship Bill Passes Reichstag, Disorders Grow In Many Parts of Germany

Shortage of Food and Consequent Ugly Temper of People Ominous.

By United Press

BERLIN Oct 13 Chancellor Stresemann this afternoon successfully drove his dictatorship bill through the Reichstag The bill is designed to give him special power to carry out his emergency reform to keep Germany solvent and check disorders

With the prices of food soaring faster than the state and municipal officials can raise the unemployment bonuses, rioting which yesterday and early today had caused more than 13 deaths and injuries to 40 was spreading throughout Germany Riots at Elberfeld, Dusseldorf, Oberhausen and Wiesbaden in addition the one at Solingen were reported in dispatches just received

Demonstrators rioted before the city hall at Hoechst am-Main demanding that the municipal officials raise the relief bonus to 10 milliards One was wounded and several injured when police retaliated to the volley of stones and fired into the crowd French soldiers took control in some parts of the occupied areas while German security police dispersed mobs in others

The steadily decreasing supply of foodstuffs and the swelling army of unemployed appeared today to foreshadow still more dangerous outbreaks unless relief can be found. The newspapers are filled with details of plundering and minor outbreaks that show the serious temper of the crowds everywhere.

In many places housewives have joined crowds of men in plundering and even led in the attacks on small stores or trucks of vegetables. When the police attempt to stem these outbursts the women attack them with stones and in several places police reserves had to be called out

YANKEES GET EARLY LEAD, SCORING SIX TALLIES IN SECOND

By United Press

POLO GROUND, N Y, Oct 13—Scoring six runs in the second inning of this afternoon's game in the fourth clash of the World Series the New York Yankees got an early jump on John McGraw's Giants and it looked as though the American League champs were going to even the count in games played at two apiece

The Yankees used their clubs to advantage in the second frame The first four men up got hits and Jack Scott who started on the mound for the National League champs was lifted in favor of Rosy Ryan The successor did not fare any better than his predecessor and after another flock of runs had been scored off him he was chased to the showers McQuillan then went on the mound and the side was retired

Shawkey was on the rubber for the Yankees and in the opening inning his work retired the Giants in a snappy fashion With a lead of six runs to work behind it was safely predicted the National Leaguers would find themselves up against a hard proposition even with Casey Stengel's ability to hit home runs

The crowd today was smaller than that which witnessed the game at the Yankee Stadium It was estimated 50,000 persons filled the Polo Grounds

Play started at 2 P M

First inning Yankees Witt singled to center Dugan fouled to Snyder Ruth was out on strikes R Meusel forced Witt Bancroft to Frisch No runs, one hit no errors

First inning Giants Bancroft flied to Meusel Groh popped to Ward Frisch singled over second Young singled past Scott, Meusel forced Young Ward to Scott. No runs two hits no errors

Second inning Yankees Pipp singled over second Ward singled to center, Schang reached first when Scott fumbled his bunt Scott singled to left scoring Pipp and Ward Scott was taken out and Ryan came in to pitch for the Giants Shawkey filed to Stengel Schang scoring after the catch Witt hit to left for a double scoring Scott Dugan hit to Groh and Witt was tagged out on the bag in Ruth walked R Meusel tripled to left scoring Dugan and Ruth Ryan was taken out of the box making the second Giant pitching casualty McQuillan then came in to pitch for the Giants Pipp filed to Stengel Six runs five hits, one error

NEW YORK Oct 13—With the Giants leading the chase again by one step the world series will be resumed this afternoon at the Polo Grounds when the Yankees will have to do or be done in the fourth game of the championship fight

Down two games to one by virtue of the thrilling 1-0 victory of the Giants yesterday the American League champions have a lot more than their backs to the wall Their hands are almost tied and if the blind falls over their eyes today the Giants shooting squad will have nothing to do but pull the trigger

Gloomy slate colored clouds hung in the sky shortly before game time There was almost a mist in the air and the atmosphere was wet with impending rain Interference of the weather fiat which has threatened for several days seemed imminent

Only the same hearts which the American League champion have shown while the breaks were beating them in the face all through the series kept a sour look off the Yankees as they got ready for this game today which may go a long way in recording the series The Yankees know they must even the count with the world champions today or their job is almost hopeless One more victory by the Giants will impose the task on the Yanks of winning three straights and such things aren't done often to McGraw's team

R. C. Witt Elected Scout Executive in Uniontown

R C Witt scout commissioner the man responsible for the beginning of the Boy Scout movement in Connellsville has been lost to the work here At a meeting of the local Scout Council of Uniontown Wednesday evening Mr Witt was elected scout executive of Uniontown, a salaried position, and one that will require all his time at the work.

Mr Witt organized Troop No 1 of Connellsville many years ago and is still an active worker in that organization which meets weekly at the United Brethren Church With that troop firmly established he set about to aid in the growth of the movement here and at one time had eight troops registered in the city This number however has dwindled, the leaders losing interest and the Local Council taking no active steps to keep the boys enrolled

Several years ago Mr Witt was elected scout commissioner, the highest unpaid office Later he was scout executive for a short term serving at a salary When that office was abolished he again became commissioner

There were a number of candidates for the Uniontown position and the competition finally narrowed down to a choice between Mr Witt and an eastern man At Wednesday night's meeting the Connellsville local was elected

Mr Witt is well known throughout the county for his scouting activities Others connected with scout work here say he will be very much missed in the city At times when no other person took the lead Mr Witt has stepped in to keep the scout work going He has always been popular among the boys and hikes planned by him were always well attended

Mr Witt has called a meeting of the Local Scout Council for Friday evening and he desires that every member be present On Wednesday evening he will meet all the scout officials of the various troops

He will begin his new duties at Uniontown within two weeks At present he is working out a notice with he Bell Telephone Company, where he is employed as a wire chief His time with the company has mainly been spent between the Uniontown and Connellsville offices He expects to move to Uniontown about the first of next year

Impressed Forever.

There are occasional doubts in the minds of the elders of the Moore family as to the quickness of Tommy's wits, but there has never been any doubt that a lesson learned by him, however slowly, is forever after remembered.

"Won't you shake hands with me, Tommy?" asked one of his sister's admirers, but Tommy hung back

"I don't care to," he said, with terrible distinctness.

"Don't you like me?" asked the unwise visitor.

"No, I don't!" replied Tommy, and then there was a shocked chorus from the family.

"Tommy," said his aunt, reproachfully, as she withdrew him from the public gaze, "why did you say such a rude thing to Mr. Jones?"

"Because, auntie," said her wriggling charge, "I got licked last week for not telling the truth, and I shan't never take any risks again!"—Boston Globe.

New Jewett Brougham, $1325

Cleverest 5-Seater—Baked Enamel Finish

HERE it is! The really comfortable, moderate priced 5-passenger Brougham—the new Jewett! Experienced motorists everywhere express approval of its clever seating arrangement; and they prefer the combination of stout wood frame body with separately baked enameled steel panels.

The lasting lustre finish of this New Jewett Brougham will always look well. Each steel body panel is dipped 3 times in finest black enamel, then baked, then fastened to the extra-strong wood frame—wood, because wood absorbs vibration, reduces noise to nil. There is the rich black gloss ALL OVER THE CAR that you sometimes see on the fenders of other cars. And it needs no attention but washing.

Both front seats fold forward. Easy entrance and exit; ample leg room. Rear seat 46½ inches wide—room for three big people, in comfort. You'll agree that this is the cleverest 5-seater among all closed cars.

The New Brougham is a Jewett through and through—a strong, rugged car, not a flimsy light six. It has the same amazing performance that astounds old-time motorists. Its full 50 h. p. Paige-built motor gives the most spirited performance you ever saw in any car. Passes most any car on any hill. Goes from 2 to 60 miles an hour in high; accelerates from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds in high. (Try that with ANY other car!)

Drive this New Jewett Six Brougham. Never in our experience has $1325, factory, bought so much car. Just telephone us for a demonstration. (ex-S)

"I WILL DIVIDE WITH YOU."

If every person in the Connellsville district would manifest the spirit of a Scottdale man who has sent his subscription to the Salvation Army Home Service Fund by mail, the amount of the budget, $5,680.00, would be oversubscribed many times.

"I am only a working man," he wrote. "I have not much to give, but what little I have I will divide with you. Hope you may be successful in your call for help."

A willingness to divide! That is the basis of true charity. By such concrete expressions of our desires do we make it possible for the Salvation Army to secure the means with which to carry on its splendid work among the suffering and distressed. In making a willing division of the things we have with those who have not, we experience the real joy of giving. When giving to the Salvation Army we know that our gifts will be utilized in the most effective way and will go only to those persons who have actual need. Our generosity is thus safeguarded from abuse and waste because it will be applied in a systematic way by persons trained in the art of providing relief.

Response to the appeal in behalf of the Home Service Fund ought, therefore, to be so general that the whole community will have a share in it. While there is no limit to the amount any individual, firm or corporation may subscribe, no subscription, however small, will be declined. In fact, the larger objects and purposes of the campaign will best be served if every citizen acts upon the same impulse as prompted the Scottdale man to write:

"I have not much to give, but what little I have I will divide with you."

To make such a division will be your opportunity when the members of the teams having charge of the drive will call upon you tomorrow afternoon.

RETAINING STATE LEADERSHIP.

The fact that $10,000,000 of the $50,000,000 bond issue to be voted upon at the November election will be apportioned to the counties of the state, to match an equivalent amount on a 50-50 basis for the construction of secondary roads, gives the proposed amendment to the Constitution a very general interest.

If approval is given, as seems reasonably certain will be done, Pennsylvania will be able to maintain its lead of the nation in highway construction already made possible by the first $50,000,000 issue, approved by the voters in 1913 by a majority of 265,000.

With the facilities thus provided, and other means made available, Pennsylvania now has 5,277 miles of improved state highways out of a total of 10,325 in the state system. There remain 5,048 miles to be improved, a very large part of which can be built out of the $40,000,000 to be set aside for state roads exclusively. Further, federal aid will be available in the improvement of roads used in interstate commerce.

As the counties match the $10,000,000, which is to be their share of the $50,000,000, secondary roads which are of great importance to the communities to be served, can be improved to the extent of $20,000,000. The aggregate that will thus be applicable to roads in which the state has part or whole interest will be upwards of $65,000,000.

Every citizen of the state, who in some more or less direct way, is benefitted by highway improvement, should not hesitate to lend his or her support to the measure that will enable the Keystone State to retain its leadership as a progressive commonwealth.

THE SICK GOLFER.

I shuddered when I heard him say:
"I am not feeling well today."
I hoped I'd not propose a bet,
I've never licked a sick man yet!

And as we stood upon the tee
A sense of fear came over me—
I heard him talk of aspirin,
And knew I had no chance to win.

I've tackled men with fevers high,
And golfers just about to die,
Neuritic patients, men with boils,
And never gathered in the spoils.

I've played them when they couldn't see,
Sat down and moaned at every tee,
Sobbed out fully their list of ills,
And stopped the game to swallow pills.

I've tackled men with swollen knees
And men with every known disease,
Men who could hardly use their legs,
And never taken home the eggs.

I've played with men whose backs were lame,
Men who'd come out to play the game
Against the doctor's stern command,
So weak, they said, they couldn't stand.

I've played them after nights of woe
When indigestion laid them low;
And when much younger, and less wise,
With golfers ill I'd sympathize.

So sorry for their plight I felt,
I could not give the ball a belt—
And then woke up too late to see
Those poor sick men outdriving me.

And so I sighed to hear him say:
"I'm not feeling well today."
Though countless invalids I've met,
I've never licked a sick man yet!

Immigration Issue Must Be Met by Next Congress

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyrighted, 1923, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The labor vote—and the support of capital—are bound up in the handling of the tremendously important immigration question in the next Congress.

Capital, spoken for by Judge Gary of the United States Steel Corporation, wants the doors opened to cheap labor. American organized labor would be incensed by any let-down to the point of almost unanimous repudiation of the party that permitted it.

There is a general demand growing every year, for a final, intelligent settling of this question which assumes with each passing year greater importance in the life of the nation. But indications are that it will not be so settled this year. In fact, it may be sidestepped entirely by extension for another year or two of the present three per cent immigration quota law.

If this is the result it will be because of squabbling among the proponents of various immigration plans.

Selective Immigration.

Secretary of Labor Davis wants selective immigration. He wants the government to pick its new citizens or temporary residents in their home countries—choose them before they come here, and keep out all who cannot pass selective tests. That plan will be strenuously opposed on several grounds. Its expense is one thing; the complications it might involve with other governments is another; the pressure of scores of hyphenated organizations in America is another. These hyphenates, now newly active since the war is over, stand up and howl any time mention is made of any immigration plan that would react against their particular brand of immigrant.

Representative Albert Johnson of the House Immigration Committee wants to base immigration quotas on an early census, so that the immigration from Southern Europe will be cut down and that from the Nordic countries will be increased, or be left relatively higher.

The American Federation of Labor will ask for a decrease in the quota or for complete barring of immigration.

Big employers like Gary will try to have the restrictions abated, either through the direct increase in the quotas or through insertion in the law of loopholes in the form of exceptions.

Scramble If No Law.

Some sort of immigration law must be passed, or the present one extended, as the law now operating expires in June, 1924. Congress will be given a picture of a scramble for entrance into free America that reeks nothing of laws. The inadequate forces at the border cannot prevent smuggling of immigrants.

Proponents of selective immigration will cite work of an unofficial committee of Americans in Constantinople in support of selection.

Constantinople was crowded with Russian refugees, fleeing the Soviets, and most of them eager to come to America. The unofficial American committee took upon itself the task of weeding out those not desirable from an American point of view. Not nearly all who wanted to come could be admitted; the Russian quota was too limited. But so well did this unofficial committee impress its influence that Russians coming to America from Constantinople had to have the committee's O. K.

Labor's stand against the position of Judge Gary and other advocates of free immigration has been strengthened by the slight let-up in the booming wave of prosperity. The United States Labor Department is informed that while there are some shortages of skilled labor, the lack of unskilled labor which Gary complained of does not exist. Therefore, there is no need, labor argues, to force Americans to compete with cheap, unwholesome labor from Southern and Southeastern Europe.

Instruction Rolls Increase Your Enjoyment of the Gulbransen

THE Gulbransen Registering Piano—plus Gulbransen Instruction Rolls—there is a combination that will give you many a delightful hour!

—a combination, too, that makes musicians in days instead of years.

As you go over the four Instruction Rolls—playing the pleasing melodies you find there—you cannot help but gain a quick understanding of this new method of playing all music rolls with genuine feeling.

Melody notes are checked, pauses are indicated, correct pedaling and accenting are shown. In a word, the Instruction Rolls—exclusive with the Gulbransen—show you how to play with expression.

As your skill in playing develops, your interest grows. Soon the Gulbransen becomes to you, as it has to tens of thousands of others, an inseparable spare-hour companion—a hobby, absorbing, fascinating, irresistible!

School Apparel for Boys and Girls

For genuine pride in sporting some new wearing apparel, the average school boy or girl is not to be denied. They appreciate a good appearance just as much as do the older folks.

It takes good materials and good workmanship to make school wear that will stand the tests of the strenuous noon and recess games. You need not expect more service from a school outfit than has been built into it.

This is why Union Supply Company's clothing and shoe lines for children are so popular. Our lines of clothing, knitwear, underwear, hosiery and school shoes have been carefully selected by experienced buyers, and they are offered as representing the best values to be had in school wear.

See how well a Union Supply Company store can equip your boy or girl for fall and winter.

ABE MARTIN On Ole Stage Coach Days

FLASHIN' ANDY JACKSON'S ELECTION IN TH' OLE STAGE COACH DAYS.

Many o' th' habits an' customs o th' early stage coach days are still in vogue regardless o' th' airplane, th' radio an' other means o' rapid transportation an communication Lots o' folks still consider "sixty days" cash in th' ole days when a feller bought a pair o boots an' some calico it really required about sixty days t' go t' town Saturday night t' pay for them. Besides, most things wuz paid fer in skins, or pelts an pelts wuz only available for barterin' at certain frosty seasons It took a feller a month t' call on his gal once a week Weddin's wuz dated away ahead so a feller could git home after a proposal an' dress up an' git back. If th' weather wuz bad snow too deep or somethin', th' weddin' wuz put off. Some times a weddin' wuz set for a certain day, an' sometimes they took place upon proposal, thereby savin' th' groom a long, lonely ride thro, th' Injun fested woods. A girl generally married th' feller closest t' her, an' a feller invariably married the handiest girl t' call on Looks an' disposition cut no ice Availability wuz th' watchword. An' we must confess a purty good, rugged citizenship wuz th' result. A couple jest had t' stick t'gether an' make th' best o' things Ther wuz no stores fer th' girls t' work in, an' only skimpy cabin homes t' return to, an' th' husbands jest reasoned that they couldn do no better without droppin' ther work an gropin around for months thro' th' wilderness an runnin' th' chance o' gittin' lost. Th custom of our Presidents takin' ther seats four or five months after elected is a relic o' th ole stage coach days, when long, weary months wuz consumed in tryin' to git th' returns from for distant settlements like Vincennes, Jamestown, New Amsterdam, Ft. Wayne an' Sandusky Even after th' votes wuz in an counted it generally took a month by fast stage for a President t' reach th' capital T'day th' whole world knows whether Marietta Ohio Saint Louis Aurora, Indianny an' Haverhill, Massachusetts went Democratic or Republican thirty minutes after th' polls close. We think a President should at least take his office in time for Christmas An this thing of a young couple git'n' married in June an' not bein' at home till September is another relic o stage coach days Even with a second-hand car they ought t' be at home an' settled down in ten days

Casey Stengel, Hero of First Game, Wins Second With Home Run in Eighth; Is Only Score

WALLIE PIPP INJURED

Great Pitching Battle Broken Up by Blow; Jones Allows Four Hits.

YANKEE STADIUM, N Y, Oct. 13 —"Casey the Immortal" Stengel, bow-legged and crouched, has written his name in the baseball hall of fame in letters that never will be wiped out. After bringing fiction to life on Wednesday by making a home run in the ninth inning with two men down and the count three and two on him, thereby winning for the Giants the opening game of the world series, the veteran yesterday broke up a wonderful mound duel between Art Nehf and Sam Jones by making another circuit clout in the seventh The Giants won, 1-0.

Stengel now holds the record of being the only man to win two games in one World Series by delivering the round trip blows His smash was one of four scattered hits Jones allowed the Giants, and not another of the National League champs got beyond second base

The series really stands now, for Casey Stengel, two games won for Babe Ruth, one game won

It is likely that Scott will work for the Giants today with Shawkey on the mound for Huggins' crew

Wallie Pipp injured his ankle yesterday, while sliding into second base and it is possible the star firstbaseman of the Yankees may be lost for the series If he cannot work the keystone sack today Babe Ruth will be moved into that position and "Hinkie" Haines, of Penn State football fame, will likely take his place in the outfield.

A summary of the series shows the following:

Cokers And Johnstown Play Today

This afternoon at 3 o clock the high school teams of Connellsville and Johnstown will hold forth at Fayette Field in their annual classic The outcome is in the balance and it will be a scrap such as the Cokers have not engaged in this season

There were 31 gridders out for the final practice last evening, a fine showing for a Friday night signal drill The morale of the boys is at its highest pitch The new spirit was developed during the past week and a team with a new-found faith in its ability will take the field against the Johnnies

Johnstown is much larger than Connellsville but local fans felt secure in the courage of the Cokers Those at the field last evening were greatly heartened by the pep and spirit of the players Coach Larew says it has been displayed all week and he has been greatly encouraged by it The coach has given the boys all he can and now he only asks a part payment in return—which payment, however, will be enough to win games

The biggest student attendance of the season was looked for

Fails as Pitcher, Stars in Cleveland Outfield

Charley Jamieson, classy outfielder of the Cleveland American league club, broke into professional baseball as a pitcher but, like many other aspiring young hurlers, soon learned that pitching was not his forte and made good in another department.

Connie Mack of the Athletics and Clark Griffith of the Senators tried out Jamieson for pitching purposes, but gave him up as a hopeless task

Under the able tutelage of Tris Speaker Jamieson has developed into one of the best outfielders in the major leagues. He can go and get 'em in any direction, is fast on the bases and hits around .360 He can do anything a good ball player is supposed to do and do it well.

Training in California by Major League Clubs

It is settled that the New York Giants will do their spring training in California, according to a report from Los Angeles, which has it that Major park former home of the Vernon team, has been leased by a representative of John McGraw for next spring The Cubs will be close by the Giants on Catalina island, the Pirates are expected to do their training near Oakland, and there is talk also that the White Sox will do their work at some point on the Pacific coast. The plan is to get two other American league clubs out there and then arrange for an inter league schedule between the three National and three American teams.

Monessen Will Meet Tornadoes Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at the Elk Field, on top of Limestone Hill, the Connellsville Tornadoes will play the Monessen Independents

The locals opened their season last week with a scoreless tie against Wahash Since then the squad has been practicing diligently and is much improved The Monessen clash tomorrow will give an opportunity to test the scoring power of the purple and white machine

Serious Bladder Trouble

"Could not stand nor sit and was forced to cry out from intense pain," writes Henry Williams, Turkio, Montana "The doctors said I had inflammation of the bladder and an operation was necessary. Tried Foley Kidney Pills and improved at once. Tell all my friends about Foley Kidney Pills as it will save many from suffering and perhaps, as in my case, a dangerous operation" Bladder and kidney trouble demand prompt treatment Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief Sold everywhere—Advertisement.

TIME OF WILDCAT BANKS

Name for Unsound Depositories Was Derived From Picture of Early Day Notes.

The term "wildcats," today applied to worthless securities of any description, was originally the name given to certain banks in Michigan. Back in 1837 there was a severe financial panic. Many banks failed. The currency which they had circulated became worthless, many bogus banks started up and issued "bank notes" and the country was overrun with a swarm of counterfeiters. Banking and business were demoralized and, to make matters worse, lax legislation was passed in many states, permitting almost any kind of financial robbery in the name of banking.

Such was the case in Michigan, where 40 banks were started under a law of fraudulent character. These banks were called "wildcats" because the bank notes issued by them bore a picture of that animal. All but four of these failed within two years, hence the term "wildcat" to denote a very insecure financial obligation.—Muncie Bank Bulletin.

Romance of Stolen Mail Bag.

The English post office department maintains an official of the nature of a historian whose duty is, among other things, to collect and record various data about the service. One of the most curious exhibits of the department is a time-worn old canvas mail bag—a reminiscence of a daring mail robbery. This bag is over 100 years old, and was forcibly taken by an armed footpad one evening in February, 1798, from the postboy who was carrying the mails between York and Selby. A reward was offered for the apprehension of the robber, but no trace of him or the mail bag was found until nearly eighty years later. The discovery then came about in a most singular manner. In 1876 an old wayside inn was being demolished at Churchill near Selby, and in the rafters the workmen found, among other things, the long-lost mail bag, it having evidently been hidden there by the highwayman of 1798, after being despoiled of its contents.

Dogs' Limitations.

An investigation is being made as to the truth of an Arab assertion that dogs cannot follow the trail of a naked person. A number of writers vouched for the correctness of the contention and proffered the results of their own experiences. One of the letters received was from a French officer who had spent many years among the Arabs. He says in his letter: "Once, when I found myself with a moving column in Morocco, a sentry of mine was stabbed no further than 30 feet from my tent by three Arabs, who came in the night, entirely naked, wishing to steal a gun. Two very good watch dogs lay in my tent, but neither moved; and there were other dogs in the camp, but all were perfectly still as the Arabs came and went." The writer of the letter argues that this fact proves the point, but adds that Arabs themselves declare they are unable to explain it.

Curious Changes in Eyes of Fish.

A study of the different forms and habits of fishes will bring most interesting things to light. An instance: One of the most peculiar things about flounders is that the young of the species swim upright as in the case of all adults of any ordinary species. The eyes of young flounders are like those of any ordinary fish, one being situated on each side of the head. Gradually, however, a change comes in the appearance of the young flounder. As it grows one of the eyes travels around to the side of the head until both are on the same side. Subsequently this side becomes the upper side of the head. Most of this rotation of the eye is a rapid process, taking not more than three days.

When You Try "SALADA" TEA

you will realize the difference between "Salada" and "just tea."

Suit of Black Velvet; Fox Collar and Cuffs

Showing a very beautiful suit of black velvet heavily embroidered in bright green and red beads—collared and cuffed with red fox.

New Tea Gowns Are of Turkish Trouser Style

Lounging robes made in Turkish designs are very much like an elaborate suit of pajamas with the trousers gathered in at the ankle. This may seem rather an absurd fashion, says a fashion writer in the New York Tribune, but there was a time when pantalettes were a very important feature. Beautiful ladies then attended the opera and balls in their straight robes, short and scanty, beneath which dangled frilly pantalettes, permitting only the merest tips of tiny slippers to appear.

So it is just as reasonable to suppose that present-day women may take to wearing, in the privacy of their homes, velvet suits made on the lines of Turkish trousers. These are decidedly more modest than the pantalettes in which Nineteenth century women walked abroad.

The gowns in no way resemble the informality of the negligee, although they are generally supposed to be close of kin. The difference is marked in both line and fabric. Long and straight are these tea gowns and their materials are in striking contrast to the chiffons, gauzes, laces and ribbons in which femininity indulges itself in the dressing room. These stately robes, in which one may even dine informally, demand brocades, velvets and tissues of gold and silver.

Then there are the trailing chiffon gowns in batik designs that have become so popular, and some of our shops show Venetian robes as kimonos. These are in velvets of mellow old colorings, the entire surface painted in dull gold and silver. There is a dull red one painted in gold and lined with olive green. One of mole-colored velvet is lined with Vatican red.

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. Robinson Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Amarillo, Texas.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that it would almost kill me and I would have cramps. I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health since, keep house and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends as it has certainly given me great relief."—Mrs. C. B. ROBINSON, 608 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Tex.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful times, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes as well as by one woman telling another. These women know what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Jacket Blouse Is Gay Fall Fashion

Favored Garment Is Only Slightly Altered for Present Season.

One of the interesting aspects of the fall blouse fashions is the continued popularity of the jacquette, especially for autumn wear, observes a fashion authority in the New York Tribune. The jacquette was worn so extensively during the spring months that it might have been supposed to have had a brief and exuberant flowering and an early death. But such is not the case. It remains with us, but in slightly altered guise.

The sash has to a considerable extent disappeared, and where it stays it is of such soft materials as to make it possible to wear the jacquette under an outer garment. And in the majority of cases it has been supplanted by a buckle at the side after the style of buckles on dresses bearing the side-drape, or in some instances with an inconspicuous fastening of a deep enfolding belt. At this point the jacquette becomes almost indistinguishable from the costume blouse, which is expected to come into its own with the days of late autumn and winter when the coat suit, fur-trimmed and sumptuous, makes its appearance.

The keynote of the new blouses is opulence either of materials or decoration. There are blouses of duvetyn, cut velvet and crepe of the heaviest quality. The general lines are the same usually adapted to the straight silhouette, but a new note of Oriental luxury is found in such barbaric colors as Chinese yellow, used not only in embroidery designs but occasionally as a solid color. And there are brilliant and daring combinations of color in which yellow and red predominate, especially where dark backgrounds are used. In the new imports every shade from pale green to bright red is seen, though, of course, the smart Parisienne follows the dictates of her complexion as well as fashion.

With the color, the influences of early civilization still dominate the mode. Fashion expresses in a thousand despotic ways the Persian, the Byzantine, the Kuromanian, Turkestan and peasant motifs. However, to one who looks more deeply than the casual observer, it is apparent that flower designs are fighting their way into favor. Flower colors—rose red, gentian blue—are much spoken of.

There are blouses made of silk so printed that they are almost legible. Designers say that at no time can they remember having such demands made upon them for new patterns. The colors are exquisite—an everlasting silken rainbow greets your eye.

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"THE GREATER DUTY," an interesting picture with G. M. Anderson, the well-known screen star in a thrilling role, William Duncan in the exciting serial, "The Steel Trail," and comedy "Jollywood," are the attractions today at this theatre. This is one of the biggest and best programs shown at the Paramount in months and an evening of exceptional entertainment is in store for all who attend. Monday and Tuesday "Blinkey" starring Hoot Gibson will be shown.

The Soisson

"THE CHRISTIAN," Maurice Tourneur's mammoth production, adapted from the famous novel and play by Sir Hall Caine, will open Monday at this theatre for a three day attraction. Tourneur is known as one of the most capable directors in the business and he has put every bit of his knowledge and technical skill into making "The Christian." If he had done nothing else he would rank at the top of his profession from this picture alone. With his technical staff and the principal players, Mr. Tourneur photographed the exteriors in London and on the Isle of Man to get absolutely correct atmosphere. The author of the novel accompanied him and put his knowledge of Manx manners and customs at the director's disposal. One of the biggest spectacular features of any recent film is the scene in Trafalgar Square when John Storm is attacked and martally wounded by a mob of London hoodlums. The handling of the mob, the lighting of the square and the vividness of the acting were excellently done. Richard Dix in the role of John Storm, a part that has tested the powers of many well known stage stars, comes through with flying colors. He is an actor of whom great things may confidently be predicted. He had not hitherto approached the mastery of the technique of acting which he bestows upon this role. Mae Busch is a sympathetic and appealing Glory Quayle, sharing in the acting honors which fall to Mr. Dix. Goldwyn gave Director Tourneur one of the most capable casts that this reviewer has seen in a picture. Aside from Dix and Miss Busch, notable characterizations are contributed by Phyllis Haver, Beryl Mercer, Mahlon Hamilton, Garreth Hughes, Joseph Dowling, Claude Gillingwater, Harry Northrup and Cyril Chadwick.

The Soisson

"JUST LIKE A WOMAN"—The feature attraction today at this theatre is a Hodkinson picture with Marguerite De La Motte in the stellar role.

In the story Peggy Dean, whose mother had been snubbed by her aunts because she was an actress, plans to teach her relatives a lesson so accordingly, she masquerades as a missionary. When she joins her aunts' household she begins by opposing all forms of jazz, cocktails, fine feathers and furs.

Upon this occasion when she forces them to cure their sore throat with a handkerchief, Peggy disapproves of the low-neck dresses worn by her aunts, who are entertaining the Judge that evening. Finding that the only thing available to cover the censored part was a handkerchief, Peggy insisted that the aunts wear them. It caused quite a lot of embarrassment when the guests arrived and proper explanations were thought of to account for the unusual appearance of the handkerchiefs.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Maurice Tourneur's mammoth production, "The Christian" will be shown.

The Orpheum

"THE IRON TRAIL," showing today at this theatre, is a Rex Beach story and, the action taking place in the Alaskan gold fields. "The Iron Trail" is a railroad story, set in the heart of the Alaskan gold country and the stirring action that begins with the first title lasts right through to the last foot of film. A splendid cast enacts the principal roles and the minor parts are equally well handled by players of lesser note. Wyndham Standing as "Murray O'Neil" is excellent and Thurston Hall as Burtis Gordon gives a performance that surpasses in excellence all of his former remarkable characterization. Reginald Denny, recently seen in support of Norma Talmadge makes an ideal "Tom Appleton" while Harlan Knight as "Tom Slater" is the living spirit of the character as drawn by Rex Beach.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week D. W. Griffith's production "One Exciting Night."

There has been marked improvement, as reports come in that not one townsman was seen playing on the streets.

Next week will be known as "clean up week." Leaves will be raked up, paper gathered and the slogan will be: "Do not throw paper on the street."

At each meeting the woman in charge reads two stories and then there are games for a while.

Only [illegible] for folks whose homes are [illegible] adapted to its guaranteed satisfactory operation. None others can win it at any price —And why so many others are submitting their heating problems to us NOW, while the Factory Engineers are here to assist us in quickly determining the adaptability of their houses for the guaranteed, satisfactory operation of the FAMOUS ROUND OAK HEATING SYSTEM?

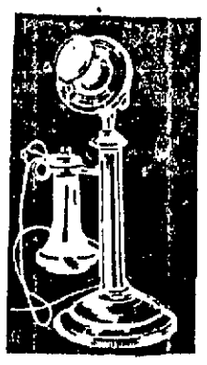
ROUND OAK HEATING SYSTEM

To own a Round Oak with the lowest possible investment on the most liberal basis imaginable, investigate now!



Whether you need a ROUND OAK now or later—this is the time to act! Phone, call or write for an appointment with a heating engineer.

It isn't the original cost—It's the upkeep

You pay ALL these costs	—for as few as 14 years.	Round Oak Heating System.	Cheapest Furnace in America	Isn't this the answer—"What will it cost eventually?"
	ORIGINAL COST (Installed)	Perhaps double—seldom is!	About half as much as Round Oak.
	FUEL COST (for 14 years)	Takes one-fourth less fuel than cheap furnace. You save at least $25 a year, which totals $350 or more for the 14 years. We can prove this!	Takes one-third more fuel than a Round Oak. In 14 years, it costs you at least $350 more than a Round Oak—just for fuel alone!
	REPAIR COST	None, barring abuse.	Excessive—many dollars
	TOTAL COST	Much less—add it up.	More than Round Oak.
	WHAT HAVE YOU at end of 14 years!	A good heating system. Good for 20 years more.	Nothing.

Which costs the least? What seems the wise decision?

Thousands of Round Oaks have been heating New England homes for years — healthfully and comfortably at lowest cost for fuel.
